9. E.L.F. Cosmetics

We were skeptics when we saw these "Cosmetics for $1" but after trying them, we are probably their biggest fans! They've been in business since 2004, and don't have fancy packaging but the quality of the products is comparable to anything you would find at a makeup counter or in the drugstore. There is also a virtual makeover on the website and all of the ingredients are listed with each product.

Approx. $1 www.EyesLipsFace.com

10. Chanel Clutch Purse

Although we hate to support anything Karl Lagerfeld does because of his jack-ass mentality regarding "fat" women like Heidi Klum (yes he actually said that), we do like this clutch purse, especially since it fits no matter what size you are. So stick to making great purses and keep your fat mouth shut, Karl.

Approx. $85 Found at Clothing Addiction

These products are so much better for your kid's imaginations than their DS will ever be, and much cheaper too, so be sure to stock up for the holidays! Plus, Crayola has a truly wonderful interactive website that you have to see to believe!
